INFORMATION ON INDIAN DAY SCHOOL CLASS ACTION

What is an Indian Day School?
Indian Day Schools include all those day schools established or designated as such by the federal Department of Indian Affairs in which Aboriginal students across Canada were required to attend by law (Indian Act), and were funded in part or solely by the federal government. Unlike Indian Residential Schools, students did not reside at Indian Day Schools. Only in very limited circumstances (seasonal weather conditions etc.) would a student reside at an Indian Day School.

Church involvement in Indian Day Schools
In most cases, Indian Day Schools were operated and maintained by the very same religious organizations administering Indian Residential Schools. This included Roman Catholic, Church of England, Methodist and Presbyterian denominations.

Abuse and damages at Indian Day Schools
Students who attended Indian Day Schools have reported suffering the very same types of abuses experienced by students who attended Indian Residential Schools. In this regard, Indian Day School students have reported suffering severe physical, sexual, mental and psychological abuse by teaching staff, officials, students and other third parties. Families of these students suffered the same types of damage as the families of Indian Residential School Survivors. This is in addition to the systemic harm and damage inflicted upon Aboriginal culture and languages.

Who is covered by the McLean Class Action?
The McLean Class Action covers all students who attended Indian Day Schools that operated separate and apart from Indian Residential Schools. This includes students who are Metis or Inuit, as well as First Nations students. The Class Action also covers the families (spouses, former spouses, children, grandchildren, or siblings, and their spouses) of students who attended Indian Day Schools.
To date, there is no other national class proceeding which has sought or obtained compensation for the damages suffered by Indian Day School Survivors and their families.

Is there a deadline to register for the McLean Class Action?
There is currently no deadline to register. However, if a Settlement Agreement is reached, notification of the registration deadline will be widely published.

Can I register for the McLean Class Action if I received a Common Experience Payment (CEP) or compensation for attending an Indian Residential School?
Yes, you can register for the Class Action.

Are there any fees or costs to being a Class Member?
There are no legal fees or costs payable by you to register for the Class Action.

Registration for Deceased Survivors
Our position is that compensation is owed to the estates of deceased persons who attended an Indian Day School. This issue has not yet been resolved.

How long do Class Actions take?
Each Class Action is different. Class Actions make take several years to settle depending on the circumstances.

How will I be compensated?
Once there is a settlement and it is approved by the Court, there will a mechanism set up by the Court for determining and distributing the amount of compensation.

What if I do not remember the Indian Day School(s) or year(s)/grade(s) I attended?
Try to provide as much information as you can remember. Additional research will be completed at a later stage to verify the school(s) and year(s)/grade(s) that you attended.

Who can I contact to get more information about this Class Action?
The Plaintiffs in this matter are represented by class counsel Robert Winogron and Jeremy Bouchard of the law firm Gowling WLG (Canada) LLP. Mr. Winogron and Mr. Bouchard have over 30 years of combined legal experience in the area of Aboriginal Law and Litigation. Gowling WLG is a national law firm which is consistently recognized for its representative work on behalf of First Nations and Aboriginal organizations across Canada.
