WILLS & ESTATES

What is a Will?

A Will is a written document that leaves instructions about what you want done with your personal possessions and land after you die.

Why should you have a will?

If you die without a Will on-reserve (also called "dying intestate"), the Indian Act determines how your assets will be distributed, only family can inherit.

Having a Will ensures that your wishes will be carried out. Consider all of your possessions when making a will (e.g., money, vehicles, books, pieces of art, furniture, land, and keepsakes). Be sure to consider making arrangements for care of your children and pets. You can only gift your land to someone who is a member of your First Nation.

Writing a Will is free, unless you go through a lawyer.

By making a will, you can:

- decide who will take care of your estate
- decide who should receive your personal possessions (such as jewellery, vehicles and money)
- leave instructions about who will take care of your children and dependents
- can avoid potential problems

Additionally, some assets may not form part of your estate. If land is lawfully possessed by more than one member, whether it forms part of your estate will depend on how it is lawfully possessed:

- Joint Tenants –members would be a 'joint tenant' with the other members; or
- Tenants in common –members possess a certain percentage and you can deal with your percentage in accordance with Land Code

If you possess land as a joint tenant with another member(s), when one tenant passes away, the land automatically passes to the other joint tenants. It makes no difference whether you have a Will or not. But if you possess your land as tenants in common, you can leave your percentage to another member.

Indigenous Services Canada (ISC) is responsible for estate services in all provinces.

Will Kits and estate forms are available at the Administration Office.
