KEEPING YOUR HEART HEALTHY WHEN LIVING WITH DIABETES

February is heart health month. For those of us living with type 2 diabetes, there is a higher risk of contracting heart disease, so looking after our hearts is an important factor in diabetes management. Luckily, a lot of the things we do to keep our blood sugars under control will also help out our hearts and cardiovascular systems. Diet, exercise and stress management all have a big impact on our risk of heart disease as well as our diabetes management.

What are some things we can do on a daily basis to keep our hearts healthy?

- Weigh yourself every day at the same time. We need to pay attention to our weight. Losing 5 to 10% of our body weight when we are overweight or obese will improve both control of blood glucose levels as well as our heart health.
- Exercising daily is also an important part of our regime. Try for at least 2.5 hrs every week, spread over 3 days of the week.
 Though if we want to get into a routine, daily exercise is best.
- Choose heart healthy meals. These types of meals showcase veggies, fruits, whole grains. Limit high-fat foods (like read meats, cheese, baked goods) and limit high-salt foods (like some canned and processed foods).
- Using a food diary will help keep track of what we are eating.
 This is very helpful especially when we have weight loss as a goal. This will help keep track of both calories and blood sugar level patterns.
- Take some time for yourself in order to de-stress. Some days are more stressful than others and we need to take care of this part of ourselves too. Ways to de-stress and relax our minds are different for everyone but here are some ideas: listening to your favorite music, reading a good book, practicing meditation, yoga or tai chi, reconnecting with nature.
