Health Services

Pikwakanagan Family Health Team

The Family Health Team continues to experience a shortage in staffing. Primary care services across Ontario are also facing the same staffing challenges. We are working hard to secure additional staff for the clinic to support the needs of the community of Pikwakanagan and its membership.

We encourage all patients to access alternative primary care services when able from the resources listed below. When patients can access treatment for common ailments through pharmacies, it allows the clinic to provide increased and more timely access to care through our Nurse Practitioner, Physician and Registered Nurses. We try our very best to accommodate patients and ask that patients understand that we have a priority to triage and treat patients based on the severity of their immediate medical needs.

If you are unable to attend your scheduled appointment, we ask that you please call the clinic as soon as possible to advise us that you will not be able to attend your appointment. When our team is advised of a cancellation, we are then able to offer the appointment time to the next eligible patient. Please note that only registered pharmacists can prescribe medication. Pharmacy technicians cannot provide this service.

We have confirmed that Pharmasave Golden Lake and Conway's Pharmacy in Eganville and Cobden are able to provide this service. If the person in need of medication is a child, please be advised that the child may still need to be assessed by a registered primary care provider such as a Nurse Practitioner, Physician, or local emergency department.

Pharmacists will be able to offer prescriptions for:

- hay fever (allergic rhinitis);
- oral thrush (candidal stomatitis);
- pink eye (conjunctivitis; bacterial, allergic and viral);
- dermatitis (atopic, eczema, allergic and contact);
- menstrual cramps (dysmenorrhea);
- acid reflux (gastroesophageal reflux disease (GERD));
- hemorrhoids;
- cold sores (herpes labialis);
- impetigo;
- insect bites and hives;
- tick bites (post-exposure prophylaxis to prevent Lyme disease);
- sprains and strains (musculoskeletal); and
- urinary tract infections (UTIs).

We value the care of our patients and appreciate your understanding.

Golden Lake & Walleye Rehabilitation Plans

Golden Lake and Walleye Rehabilitation Plans

For the last thirty-three years Peter Heineremann has been running the "Nibble-Nibble Yank" Children's Fishing Derby during two weeks in July at Red Pine Camp on Golden Lake. Last spring, I decided to put together a talk on the Fishes of Golden Lake, so that kids at camp would be able to identify the diverse species of fish that they catch each year. Prior to presenting it at camp last year, I gave the presentation to those attending the annual general meeting of the Golden Lake and Area Property Owners Association (GLPOA) at the Killaloe Public School. It was very well received and following the talk I was asked to become a co-chair of the Fish Committee of the GLPOA (with Don Bishop). I accepted and we are now working on a pilot project to rehabilitate the population of Walleye in Golden Lake.

A little bit of Walleye history would be helpful here. In the 1960s and 1970s, Walleye were common in Golden Lake. They have been present in the lake since 1922. For reasons that remain unclear, in the late 1970s stocks of this popular fish started declining, and now there are hardly any Walleye being caught in the lake on a regular basis. The Ministry of Natural Resources and Forestry (MNRF) has studied the situation and tried a number of different methods to solve the problem, including stocking the lake with Walleye fry (2-3 cm) and summer fingerlings (4-5 cm). None of these approaches provided a long-term solution and the Walleye population has continued to decline.

As co-chairs of the GLPOA fish committee, Dr. Peter Heineremann and Don Bishop have formulated a proposal to restore the Walleye population through selective reintroduction. Historical data from Golden Lake show that with Walleye stocked as eggs, fry or summer fingerlings, the success rate is poor. However, the same data show that if the smaller fish are raised in a protected nursery until they become larger, such as late fall fingerlings (13-18 cm) or yearlings (22-23 cm), the survival rate goes up significantly. Don and Peter have produced a conceptual plan to create a nursery application using either small floating cages, a floating raceway system, a separate remote nursery pond or intensive culture tanks. Our initial study will start with feed-trained summer fingerling Walleye and feed them in enclosures within Golden Lake until they reach a fall fingerling size. At this point they will be fin-clipped and released. Walleye in the wild normally have a very low survival rate -- usually less than 5 percent at the fry level. However, once they get to the late fall fingerling stage, they are large enough so that they are no longer a prey item for the very abundant Rainbow Smelt in Golden Lake, and their survival rate will improve significantly.

We have learned that the MNRF has been using this cage culture approach with Chinook Salmon since 2003 in Lake Ontario. It has been a remarkable success and in 2016, represented 42% of the total Chinook stocked into the Canadian side of Lake Ontario. In addition, we have been gathering information, research and speaking to contacts from Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Vermont, and Wisconsin, all of whom are leaders in Walleye intensive culture practice. We have learned much from their experiences.

We have also contacted MNRF's head of research for Lake Ontario, the chief of staff in the minister's office, the hatchery manager of the White Lake Fish Culture Station at White Lake, and the community hatchery program coordinator for the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters. We have explained our goals, and they are enthusiastic to collaborate with us to create a proof-of-concept solution for Golden Lake, one that can also be used in other lakes and with other fish species.

In addition to these contacts, we are working with the manager of natural resources for the Algonquins of Pikwakanagan First Nation. Together, we hope to make a significant positive impact upon the Walleye population of Golden Lake. In closing, please remember, whenever you fish, try to practice Fish CPR (Catch, Photo, Release)! The fish will thank you.

Golden Lake & Walley Rehabilitation Plans

Brief biographies of myself and Don follow.

Dr. Peter Heinermann

Peter's ties to Golden Lake go back 33 years, when he first started attending Red Pine Camp, a tradition that continues to this day. He has also organized and run a catch-and-release children's fishing derby at Red Pine for over three decades. He retired in September of 2019, after a 28-year career as the Undergraduate Laboratory Coordinator in the Department of Biology at the University of Ottawa.

Peter has also worked as a research assistant at the University of Waterloo and Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, studying Atlantic Salmon and Brook Trout; a project biologist for Bio-Environmental Services Ltd; a secondary school teacher, a Cegep instructor, and a lecturer at the University of Montreal.

Peter holds a Bachelor of Science in Honours Fisheries from the University of Guelph, an Aquatic Biology Technologist Diploma from Sheridan College, a Bachelor of Education at Western University, followed by a Master of Science and a PhD from the University of Montreal. He is also the author of more than twenty scientific publications and reports.

Don Bishop

Don moved to Eganville with his family in the late 60's. He started his first business at the age of 20, when he ran Bishops' Sports in Eganville with his brother. After that closed in 1993, Don got involved in the aquaculture industry, first through a partnership with a Japanese company that developed solutions for mollusk farming, and then through a partnership with an American manufacturer, where he helped design containment and waste management technologies.

Don is still involved with both of these ventures on a part-time advisory basis, and he has also been involved in research and development of wastewater and nutrient recovery technologies, as well as shoreline erosion-prevention methods and contaminated soil remediation. Now semi-retired, he has volunteered with the Eganville and Area Community Development Group, and coaches and mentor's individuals and companies in a variety of ways.
