WORDS OF AFFIRMATION

Sometimes we can be our own worst enemies. We can be hyper-critical of ourselves. Negative beliefs and thoughts about ourselves can cause us to self-sabotage and hold us back from our achievements.

Positive affirmations are statements or mantras you can use to change your mental habits. They help replace negative beliefs with positive ones. They can help change your thought patterns, too.

- I am getting better and better every day.
- All I need is within me right now.
- I am an unstoppable force of nature.
- I am a living breathing example of motivation.
- I am inspiring people through my work.
- I am not pushed by my problems; I am led by my dreams.
- I can be whatever I want to be
- I am not defined by my past; I am driven by my future.
- I use obstacles to motivate me to learn and grow.
- I am constantly growing and evolving into a better person.

Indigenous Evaluation Summit, virtually on February 22-23, 2024

Artist: Autumn Whiteway, creation story of Sky Woman and Turtle Island based on Basil Johnson's legends.

An Indigenous Evaluation Network is in the planning phase to enable new, emerging and experienced Indigenous evaluators and program service providers to connect, network, build capacity and engage in mentorship. On February 22-23, 2024, the national planning committee is hosting a virtual national Summit supported by Indigenous evaluators. We encourage people to register and participate in this inaugural Summit.

A National Planning Committee has partnered with Johnston Research Inc. to support the coordination and implementation of a Network and the Summit.

Given the position, and continued implementation of Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada (TRC) Calls to Action, a larger voice must be formulated to support communities in mastering, and undertaking evaluation in their communities. There is a need to bring reconciliation into evaluation practices in Canada, across Turtle Island and abroad.

The Network aims to:

- Unite evaluators and program providers together to share their experiences with evaluation practices, for the benefit of Indigenous communities.
- Support the fostering of dialogue and knowledge transfer among Indigenous evaluators.
- Support communities in undertake ceremonies and celebrations as part of the Indigenous evaluation framework.
- Build capacity with Youth and Elders to foster an interest in evaluation.

It is crucial for Indigenous evaluators to network and collaborate to share resources, ideas, and opportunities. It is our intent that the Network builds upon the preceding Indigenous Evaluation gatherings of 2021 and 2022 continue to accomplish this.
